MARKET PULSE — Mid-Week Trading Report

Wednesday 27 May 2026

OUTLOOK · NEUTRAL-BULLISH

MACRO THEME

NAS100 crosses 30,000 for the first time on Micron +18% AI rally and Goldman $800B AI forecast. FOMC minutes due 18:00 GMT today — hawkish committee split (3 members opposed easing bias) is pre-digested; markets positioned at ATH. GER40 extreme fundamental disconnect vs PMI 47.5. Gold/silver Monday spike on US-Iran talks faded. PCE Friday May 30 is the next major USD catalyst.

OVERVIEW

NAS100 printed a new all-time high of 30,044 on May 26 as US markets reopened from Memorial Day. Catalyst: Micron +18% on AI memory demand; Goldman Sachs raised 2026 US business investment forecast to 7.8% with AI spending tracking toward $800B. GER40 gapped 293 points higher on Monday May 25 on thin holiday liquidity, extending the extreme PMI-vs-price divergence. FOMC minutes (May 6-7 meeting) are due at 18:00 GMT today — three committee members have already signaled opposition to the easing bias; a hawkish outcome is pre-priced but a surprise removal of the easing bias would trigger broad USD strength and equity selling. US-Iran ceasefire negotiations advanced Monday, causing a one-session gold spike to ~4,562 that has since faded. Gold oscillating 4,465-4,561 with bearish structure intact. AUDUSD neutral ahead of RBA June 3 (fourth hike expected).

TOP CONVICTION TRADES

#1 NAS100 LONG
ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
29,700-29,850	30,500	29,450
New ATH 30,044 set May 26 on Micron +18% AI catalyst and Goldman $800B AI spend forecast. Broken resistance 29,664 (prior year high) is now firm support. Buy any FOMC minutes-driven pullback to 29,700-29,850. Post-ATH momentum continuation is the highest conviction setup in the basket. Risk-reward 1:2.7 from mid-entry. Close below 29,664 invalidates.
#2 XAUUSD SHORT
ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
4,530-4,560	4,400	4,610
Broken support 4,635 (late April) confirmed as firm resistance — four consecutive failed closes above it. Today's high 4,561 precisely tagged the SHORT entry zone. FOMC hawkish minutes at 18:00 GMT today is the catalytic event for the next downside leg. May 26 close at 4,500 shows the level twice tested. Below 4,500 confirmed = acceleration to 4,400 target. Risk-reward 1:3.1 from mid-entry.
#3 GER40 SHORT
ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
25,300-25,430	24,889	25,530
Carry forward from Sunday. Entry filled May 25 in the 25,300-25,400 zone. Eurozone PMI 47.5 (29-month low) vs price within 176 pts of all-time high — extreme fundamental disconnect. ECB Jun 11 live for a hike that would reprice DAX multiples lower. Year high 25,508 is below the 25,530 stop. 50% size only. Risk-reward 1:3.2 from mid-entry.

UK Composite PMI 48.5 (13-month low) = GBP headwind. Outlook: NEUTRAL-BEARISH. Sell 1.8610-1.8648 stop 1.8680 target 1.8411. Below 1.8488 opens 1.8302 floor.

Down -17% from May 13 high of 88.89. Gold/silver ratio ~59.7x (compressed from 78x). Fundamentals: tracks gold as primary driver; industrial demand (AI fab, semis) provides floor. Monday US-Iran spike to ~4,562 faded within same session. Broken support 4,635 (late April) remains firm as resistance — four consecutive failed attempts to close above it. Fundamentals: FOMC hawkish tilt (three members opposed easing bias). Higher real yields = gold headwind. Iran ceasefire partial premium deflation. PCE Friday is next directional catalyst. Outlook: BEARISH. Do not buy weakness. SHORT carry at 4,530-4,560 stop 4,610 target 4,400. No flip to BULLISH until confirmed close above 4,635.
