MARKET PULSE — Weekly Trading Report

Sunday 12 July 2026

OUTLOOK · NEUTRAL

MACRO THEME

FOMC June minutes confirmed a 9-8 split committee (nine lean hold/hike, eight lean September cut); Iran airstrikes resumed July 9 erasing the ceasefire; US30 ATH 53,289 set July 7; gold stopped out at 4,053 then recovered on Iran escalation. June CPI due July 14 is the dominant week-ahead catalyst.

OVERVIEW

FOMC June minutes (released July 8, 19:00 GMT) confirmed the Federal Reserve is split 9-8 on the next policy move, with nine members open to a hold or hike and eight favouring a September cut. Gold initially sold to 4,053, stopping out the Wednesday conviction long trade at the 4,055 stop. Iran airstrikes resumed July 9, repricing the Hormuz risk premium and recovering gold to 4,130. US30 hit a new all-time high at 53,289 on July 7 then sold back to 52,637. NAS100 had the most dramatic move: 28,814 low (July 8) to 29,825 close (July 10) on the absence of CPI and the less-hawkish-than-feared FOMC split. PBoC added 14.93 tonnes of gold in June — the largest single month since October 2023, extending twenty consecutive months of buying. June CPI was NOT released on July 10 as the prior tracking note anticipated; it is scheduled for July 14. Q2 bank earnings begin Monday July 13. All three Wednesday conviction trades either stopped out or were not filled.

TOP CONVICTION TRADES

#1 XAUUSD LONG

ENTRY

4,080-4,100

TARGET

4,199 / 4,280

STOP

4,040

Iran airstrikes resumed July 9 — geopolitical premium is structural. PBoC added 14.93 tonnes in June (20th consecutive month of buying), establishing a physical demand floor independent of Fed policy. Gold recovered from FOMC-minutes low of 4,053 to 4,113, demonstrating resilience. BofA capitulation cut to $4,360 historically marks tradeable lows. R/R: entry 4,090 avg, stop 4,040 (50pt risk), target 4,199 (109pt gain) = 1:2.2; extended to 4,280 = 1:3.8. Invalidated by hot CPI July 14 or close below 4,040.

#2 US30 LONG

ENTRY

52,200-52,400

TARGET

53,500

STOP

51,900

New ATH 53,289 set July 7; post-ATH consolidation at 52,637 is healthy. Q2 bank earnings (JPM, WFC, C) Monday July 13 provide immediate catalyst via Dow's financial sector weighting. Energy and defence composition structurally positive in Hormuz environment. Conditional: do not enter or exit if June CPI prints above 4.8% YoY. R/R: entry 52,300 avg, stop 51,900 (400pt risk), target 53,500 (1,200pt gain) = 1:3.0.

#3 GER40 SHORT

ENTRY

25,195-25,280

TARGET

24,626

STOP

25,470

Year high rejection at 25,900 confirmed July 6. Broken support 25,465 (July 7 close) now firm resistance — two failed reclaim attempts confirm. Iran oil shock = direct margin headwind for German industrials and auto sector. ECB July 24 adds potential downside catalyst. Revised entry zone from prior 25,580-25,660 to reflect current price structure. R/R: entry 25,240 avg, stop 25,470 (230pt risk), target 24,626 (614pt gain) = 1:2.7. Below 24,830 upgrades target to 24,593.

ANALYSIS

Price action: Extreme whipsaw — dropped to 28,814 July 8 (breaking 28,974 structural floor), reversed violently to 29,825 by Friday close (+3.5% in two sessions). FOMC 9-8 split perceived as less hawkish than feared; CPI absence on Friday removed selling pressure. Fundamentals: June CPI July 14 is the binary trigger — soft targets 30,277+; hot retests 28,974. AI capex narrative intact. Outlook: 5-day NEUTRAL. Range trade 29,252-29,857. Do not chase above 29,857 or 30,000 ahead of CPI.

RISK SCENARIOS

Hot June CPI (>4.5% YoY) July 14

35%

USD surges; gold tests 4,053 critical floor; NAS100 breaks 29,252 and retests structural floor 28,974; US30 dips to 52,069; AUDUSD tests 0.6866; silver retests 57.760. Single most important event for all 7 instruments.

Iran Strait of Hormuz Closure

10-15%

Oil +15-25%, gold +3-5%, silver +5-8%, equities -3-5%. Active tail risk — airstrikes resumed July 9. Commercial vessel incidents or state closure announcement would trigger violent cross-asset moves.

Soft June CPI Surprise (<3.8% YoY) July 14

25%

Gold to 4,199+ targeting 4,280; NAS100 to 30,044 and 30,277; US30 to new ATH above 53,289; AUDUSD to 0.6993-0.7000; silver to 61.920+. Fed September cut probability surges. Risk-on squeeze across basket.

Bank Earnings Miss / Credit Warning July 13

20%

JPM or WFC flags consumer credit deterioration post-NFP +57K shock. US30 -1 to -2%, NAS100 -1 to -1.5%. Reprices soft-landing narrative with hard balance-sheet data. Significant for Dow given financial weighting.

BoC Surprise Hold July 15

30%

GBPCAD falls through 1.8874 toward 1.8721. CAD bids aggressively. Oil above $100 from Hormuz premium makes a dovish BoC cut difficult to justify — hold probability elevated by energy price level.
