MARKET PULSE — Weekly Trading Report

Sunday 05 July 2026

OUTLOOK · NEUTRAL-BULLISH

MACRO THEME

NFP June +57K devastates the soft-landing narrative — US30 ATH on rate-cut rotation while NAS100 prints a bearish reversal on growth-scare. Gold breaks above all identified resistance levels (4,031/4,078/4,130), full BEARISH-to-BULLISH reversal. Warsh at Sintra: inflation too high, no July guidance. GER40 new year high.

OVERVIEW

NFP June came in at +57K on Thursday July 2, a severe miss vs +110K consensus. Prior month revised down to +129K from +172K. Unemployment 4.2% (up from 4.1%). The print repriced September 2026 as a live Fed cut meeting. Warsh at ECB Sintra on July 1 was hawkish on inflation but declined to signal July action. ADP June +98K and ISM Manufacturing June 53.3 (employment sub-index 49.7) all pointed to a softening labor and industrial backdrop. Market reaction diverged sharply: US30 surged to a new ATH of 52,903, GER40 printed a new year high of 25,826, gold broke through all resistance to close above 4,187, silver gained 6% on the week, and GBPCAD broke above the prior year high of 1.8915. NAS100 had a whipsaw session — initial spike to 30,044 on rate-cut hope followed by a crash to 29,087 close at 29,329 on growth-scare selling. All three Wednesday conviction trades were stopped out.

TOP CONVICTION TRADES

#1 XAUUSD LONG

| ENTRY       | TARGET | STOP  |
|-------------|--------|-------|
| 4,100-4,135 | 4,330  | 4,055 |

Full BEARISH-to-BULLISH reversal. Broken resistance 4,031-4,078 now firm as support cluster. NFP +57K reprices Fed toward September cut, the primary structural driver for gold. Dual safe-haven bid from rate-cut optimism and growth uncertainty. Stop below July 2 low 4,062. Risk-reward 1:2.7 from mid-zone at 4,118. US CPI July 10 is the binary test.

#2 NAS100 SHORT

| ENTRY         | TARGET | STOP   |
|---------------|--------|--------|
| 29,500-29,700 | 29,000 | 29,900 |

July 2 bearish reversal candle — intraday spike to 30,044 (rate-cut hope) followed by crash to 29,087 close at 29,329 (growth-scare). This structure makes 29,500-29,700 resistance. Growth scare narrative dominates for tech: NFP +57K = weak consumer spending = revenue headwind. Enter only on a bounce to the entry zone, not at current levels. Risk-reward 1:2.0 from mid-zone at 29,600.

#3 GBPCAD LONG

| ENTRY         | TARGET | STOP   |
|---------------|--------|--------|
| 1.8900-1.8930 | 1.9100 | 1.8840 |

Broken resistance 1.8915 now firm as support. Year high confirmed broken on July 2-3. BoC July 15 decision — soft US NFP increases cut probability, weakening CAD. BoE hawkish hold (Bailey at Sintra) supports GBP. Stop below the breakout zone at 1.8840. Risk-reward 1:2.3 from mid-zone at 1.8915.

ANALYSIS

Price action: US30 broke to a new all-time high of 52,903 on NFP Thursday July 2 as rate-cut rotation favored defensive and dividend-heavy Dow constituents. July 2 session: open 52,395, high 52,903, low 52,395, close 52,900. Fundamentals: NFP +57K reprices Fed toward September cut. Defensive sectors (utilities, financials, REITs) benefit from curve steepening. Q2 earnings begin mid-July. Outlook: NEUTRAL-BULLISH. Buy dips 52,395-52,550 stop 52,150 target 53,000. Catalyst: Q2 earnings season (Dow constituents) from July 14.

ANALYSIS

Price action: July 2 bearish reversal candle — open 29,778, spike to 30,044 (rate-cut hope), crash to 29,087 (growth-scare), close 29,329. Long upper wick, close near session low. The index underperformed US30 by 3.1% this week — value/defensive rotation vs growth. Fundamentals: NFP +57K = weak consumer spending = tech revenue headwind. Growth scare dominates rate-cut narrative for NAS100. Outlook: NEUTRAL-BEARISH. Sell bounces 29,500-29,700 stop 29,900 target 29,000. Do not short below 29,088 on first touch. Catalyst: US CPI June July 10.

ANALYSIS

Price action: GER40 was strongest in basket, +4.49% on the week. From June 24 low 24,547 to July 3 new year high 25,826. Broken support 25,507 (prior year high) now firm as support. July 2 surged 2.3% in single session on soft NFP / EUR bid. July 3 (US closed, Europe open) added 0.8% to new year high. Fundamentals: EZ CPI June 3.0% (prior 3.2%) reduces ECB hike probability. Soft US NFP = weaker USD = EUR strength = European equity inflows. Outlook: NEUTRAL-BULLISH. Buy dips 25,507-25,612 stop 25,350 target 26,000. Catalyst: ECB July 24 (reduced hike risk).

ANALYSIS

Price action: AUDUSD short stopped out July 2 when intraday high 0.6946 exceeded stop at 0.6945. NFP-driven USD weakness created the spike. Pair then faded back to close 0.6892 on July 2. July 3 recovery to 0.6916, July 5 at 0.6939. Overall the pair is range-bound 0.6866-0.6950 post-NFP. Fundamentals: Soft US NFP = USD weakness = AUD tactical relief. But AUD is in medium-term downtrend from 0.7278 year high. Iron ore/China demand softness caps upside. Outlook: NEUTRAL. Range trade 0.6866-0.6950. Avoid fresh directional position ahead of US CPI July 10.

RISK SCENARIOS

US CPI June Hot (>3.5% YoY) Fri July 10

25%

Destroys September cut thesis. Gold -3 to -5% (Trade 1 stopped at 4,055). NAS100 +2-3% (valuation relief). US30 -1%. GBPCAD -0.5% on USD strength. AHE +0.3% MoM is consistent with above-target inflation, making this a live risk.

BoC Cuts July 15

50%

CAD weakens. GBPCAD +1 to +2%, extending Trade 3 toward 1.92-1.93. AUDUSD mild positive (global risk-on). Gold marginally positive. Validates Trade 3 GBPCAD long trajectory.

NAS100 29,088 Support Breaks

30%

July 2 intraday low 29,088 is the key pivot. Confirmed break below opens 28,991 then 28,891. Validates Trade 2 NAS100 short if entered at 29,500-29,700. Likely triggered by hot CPI or additional growth data disappointment.

ECB Hawkish Hike July 24

30%

EZ CPI 3.0% reduces but does not eliminate hike probability. A surprise hike = GER40 -2 to -3%, EUR +1-2%. Broken support 25,507 would be retested. Probability has fallen from 35% in prior week.

Warsh Signals No 2026 Cuts Before CPI

20%

If Warsh explicitly signals employment softness does not change the rate path, the September cut thesis collapses. Gold -3 to -5% (Trade 1 stop 4,055 triggered). NAS100 +2-3% (no recession-linked cuts removes the sell signal). USD +1-2%.

GBPCAD False Breakout — BoC Holds

20%

If BoC holds July 15 on oil rebound or inflation stickiness, CAD strengthens. GBPCAD falls below 1.8874, flags false year-high breakout. Stop at 1.8840 contains Trade 3 risk but negates the thesis.
