Wednesday 08 July 2026

OUTLOOK · NEUTRAL

MACRO THEME

Iranian Hormuz incident reignites geopolitical premium; FOMC minutes drop tonight pre-CPI. NFP +57K growth scare drives Dow to ATH while NAS100 rotates lower. Gold at critical entry zone 4,100-4,135. GER40 year-high rejection on Tuesday. CPI Friday is the dominant binary.

OVERVIEW

Iranian Revolutionary Guard fired on two commercial vessels near the Strait of Hormuz on July 7, spiking crude oil and triggering a sharp cross-asset rotation: US30 hit year high 53,289 (defensive/energy composition) while NAS100 sold to 28,974 day low and GER40 reversed from year high 25,900 to close -1.37%. GBPCAD hit year high 1.9040 then reversed on CAD strength from oil. Gold is holding above critical 4,078 support at the 4,100-4,135 entry zone. FOMC minutes from June 16-17 meeting release tonight at 19:00 GMT. US CPI June on Friday July 10 is the dominant catalyst of the week; consensus near 3.1% YoY.

TOP CONVICTION TRADES

#1 XAUUSD LONG

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
4,100-4,135	4,280	4,055

Entry zone 4,100-4,135 now active — day low 4,104 confirms zone is being traded. Critical support 4,078 intact on every close since NFP recovery. Bull flag from 3,963 base intact. Iranian Hormuz incident restores geopolitical premium. FOMC minutes tonight: any September cut language = gold +$50-80. CPI Friday soft print = gold +$80-120 to 4,280 target. Structural NFP +57K growth-scare is the primary BULLISH driver. Stop 4,055 below 4,078 critical level. Risk-reward 1:2.7.

#2 NAS100 SHORT

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
29,450-29,650	28,880	29,820

Tech rotation from growth-scare post-NFP +57K is confirmed. Series of lower highs from 30,276 ATH intact. SpaceX (SPCX) Nasdaq-100 inclusion triggers mechanical passive buying — use this bounce as short entry into resistance zone. Day low 28,974 tested Tuesday; any recovery to 29,450-29,650 is a sell against 29,820 stop. FOMC minutes hawkish surprise accelerates decline. CPI hot print = NAS100 double-hit from growth fear and rate risk. Risk-reward 1:2.1.

#3 GER40 SHORT

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
25,580-25,660	25,040	25,720

Year high rejection at 25,900 confirmed by Tuesday sharp intraday reversal from 25,812 to 25,465 close. Broken year high at 25,900 is now firm resistance. Broken support at 25,612 (July 2 breakout point) now acts as resistance from above. Iranian Hormuz incident raises European energy costs — direct margin pressure for DAX chemicals, autos, industrials. ECB July 24 uncertainty adds European risk premium. Wait for bounce to 25,580-25,660 zone before entry. Risk-reward 1:2.4.

RISK SCENARIOS

FOMC Minutes Hawkish Surprise (pre-NFP committee confidence)

25%

USD +0.5-1%, gold tests 4,078 critical support, NAS100 re-tests 28,974, US30 -0.5-1%. June meeting data was pre-NFP shock so committee language may reflect stronger labor market confidence than current conditions warrant. Gold stop at 4,055 in range.

US CPI June Hot Print (above 3.3% YoY)

20%

Stagflation scenario — collapsing payrolls plus rising prices. Gold -$80-120, NAS100 -2 to -3%, US30 -1 to -2%, AUDUSD -1%, XAGUSD tests 59.48. XAUUSD LONG stop 4,055 triggered. Most disruptive outcome for the dashboard.

Iranian Hormuz Escalation — Confirmed Closure

15%

Brent +10-20%, gold +$150-200, equities -2 to -4%. US30 and CAD assets outperform on energy. NAS100 -3 to -5%. GER40 collapses below 25,040. GBPCAD sharply lower on CAD surge. Probability elevated from dormant to 15% following Tuesday vessel firing incident.

US CPI June Soft Print (below 2.9% YoY)

35%

September Fed cut pricing surges. Gold +$80-120 to 4,280 target. NAS100 recovers to 29,697-30,044. US30 extends above ATH 53,289. AUDUSD tests 0.6993. Silver to 62.62. USD Index -0.8 to -1.2%. This is the base-case highest probability scenario.

FOMC Minutes Signal September Cut Discussion

30%

Gold +$60-100 immediately. NAS100 recovers on rate-cut multiple expansion to 29,697. US30 to new ATH above 53,289. USD weaker. This is gold's primary upside catalyst for tonight. Probability elevated given pre-NFP data suggests committee may have already been discussing the growth deceleration trajectory.
