MARKET PULSE — Weekly Trading Report

Sunday 28 June 2026

OUTLOOK · NEUTRAL-BEARISH

MACRO THEME

US30 hits fresh ATH 52,655 on value rotation while NAS100 sheds 4.2% on rate-compression fears; Micron record $41.46bn Q3 beat failed to sustain tech rally. PCE May 4.1% YoY confirms Warsh hawkish-hold. Gold cycle low 4,031 broken Jun 24 (close 3,990), recovered to 4,096 on PCE relief. ECB Sintra Jun 29-Jul 1 is the dominant forward catalyst.

OVERVIEW

A bifurcated week defined the close of June. US30 printed a fresh ATH of 52,655 as value rotation absorbed Micron's blockbuster Q3 beat while NAS100 shed 4.2% from its weekly peak as rate-compression fears overwhelmed earnings euphoria. PCE May came in at 4.1% YoY (highest since April 2023), confirming Warsh's hawkish-hold anchor; monthly prints (+0.4% MoM vs 0.5% consensus) triggered a gold dead-cat bounce from 3,963. Gold's daily close of 3,990 on June 24 formally broke the 4,031 cycle low before recovering to 4,096 on Friday. ECB Sintra Forum (June 29 — July 1) is the dominant risk event for the coming week. US Non-Farm Payrolls for June (moved to Thursday July 2 due to observed July 4 holiday) rounds out the binary calendar.

TOP CONVICTION TRADES

#1 NAS100 SHORT

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
29,350-29,500 (add to existing Jun 25 short from 29,600-29,750)	28,500	30,100

Broken support 30,347 (June 22 close) confirmed as resistance. NAS100 down 4.2% from peak with lower-high structure intact. Warsh expected at Sintra (June 30) could catalyse next leg lower if he reinforces hike timeline. OpenAI IPO delay removes sentiment catalyst. NFP July 2 is the primary binary — hot print accelerates multiple compression. Risk-reward approximately 1:2.2 from midpoint 29,425.

#2 AUDUSD SHORT

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
0.6900-0.6915	0.6850	0.6945

Broken support 0.7003 (June 22 close) confirmed as resistance. PCE 4.1% YoY keeps USD structurally bid. Warsh hawkish-hold vs RBA pause = widening rate differential favours USD. Personal income +0.7% (beat) underscores US consumer strength. June 26 day low 0.6877 established near-term floor — close below 0.6850 extends to 0.6800. Risk-reward approximately 1:1.8 from midpoint 0.6908.

#3 GER40 SHORT

ENTRY	TARGET	STOP
24,800-24,920 (on Sintra-reaction bounce to resistance)	24,209	25,090

Re-entry after previous short stopped at 25,088 (stop 25,085). Broken support 24,985-25,026 now resistance. ECB Sintra Jun 29-Jul 1 is the catalyst — Lagarde signalling July hike triggers stagflation repricing. Eurozone CPI 3.0% with Composite PMI in contraction. Do not enter before Lagarde speaks. Conditional on hawkish Sintra; if dovish, reassess at 24,209 support before re-entering. Risk-reward approximately 1:2.0 from midpoint 24,860.

RISK SCENARIOS

Lagarde Hawkish at Sintra — July ECB Hike Signalled

35%

EUR +1.5%, GER40 -2 to -3%, EURUSD surges, global equity spillover. Activates Trade 3 with target extending to 24,000. ECB CPI 3.0% provides the data justification. This is the primary catalyst for GER40 and EUR-cross instruments.

Hot NFP Print (>200K, UR below 4.0%) Thursday July 2

30%

Validates Warsh hike path. NAS100 -2 to -3%, AUDUSD -1%, gold -1.5%, US30 mixed (financials bid, tech drag). Highest-probability directional catalyst of the week. Consistent with personal income/spending beat in PCE May report.

XAUUSD Closes Below 4,031 Again

30%

Confirms the cycle low break is not a false signal. Next targets 3,963 (June 24 trough) then 3,900. Silver tests 56.00-57.00. Triggers a gold short re-entry (entry 4,050-4,090 stop 4,200 target 3,900). Catalysts: hawkish Warsh at Sintra or hot NFP July 2.

Warsh Escalates at Sintra — September FOMC Hike Flagged

25%

USD rallies sharply. NAS100 -3%, AUDUSD -1.5%, gold -2%, GBPCAD volatile as GBP/CAD both react to USD strength. Activates Trade 1 and re-opens the gold short setup. PCE 4.1% provides the data backing for this escalation. Most high-impact scenario for the full dashboard.

Sintra Dovish Surprise — Global Pivot Signal

10%

Risk-on surge: NAS100 +3-4%, gold +2%, AUDUSD +1.5%, GER40 +2%. Stop all short positions immediately. Would require major reversal in central bank inflation narrative. Not base case but the critical tail risk for all three conviction trades.
